

Tracy B. Cotton, MBA, CMBB

Tracy B. Cotton is the Managing Director, Administration Division, Office of the Chief Counsel, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), United States Department of Transportation. His previous positions have included other federal service appointments and senior-level positions in local government and at a major university. He has served as the head of large and small organizational units, setting the strategic and operating vision for various business functions, including human resources, budgeting, information technology, procurement, and business planning. Tracy's previous appointments include the Executive Director of the Center for Academic Enrichment and Outreach at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, and The Executive Director of the Southern Nevada Strategic Planning Authority.

Tracy holds a Bachelor of Science with a dual major in Marketing and Economics from the University of West Florida (1991) and a Master of Business Administration from the Florida State University (1997). He also holds a Six Sigma Master Black Belt certification from Six Sigma Partnering, LLC. He is a graduate of several executive development programs, including Leadership in a Democratic Society (Federal Executive Institute, 2011), Leading in a Regulatory Environment (John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, 2013), and Leading for Organizational Impact: The Looking Glass Experience, Center for Creative Leadership (2016). Tracy has served on numerous non-profit boards, including the Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy, United Way of Southern Nevada, and The Family Development Foundation.